COCOS SUBSTRATE is a high quality compost comprised of coco fibres extracted from the mesocarp of the coconut; consequently, it is a 100% natural product. COCOS SUBSTRATE is designed so that it may be used immediately. It contains a basic plant fertilizer; it is recommended for carrying nutrients after fertilizing. COCOS SUBSTRATE is a compost that can store nutrients that are continually available for plants. COCOS SUBSTRATE is produced under controlled conditions, which is an assurance of quality and offers the ability to use COCOS SUBSTRATE many times over. COCOS SUBSTRATE can absorb plenty of water in a short period of time and can also deliver water rapidly and abundantly. The roots also have plenty of available oxygen, which keeps them active. Despite the absence of residual water, there is always enough humidity for the plant.
