

B'cuzz products are intended for the professional grower who wants a maximum yield and return from his crop. For fruit with a deliciously sweet smell and taste.

Bloom Stimulator

The flowering period for many plants is the most important period of the entire growing cycle. This Bloom Stimulator will force the bloom at an early stage, which will start the flowering period earlier and ultimately make it last longer and more intensely. The Bloom stimulator can be absorbed directly by the plant and will contribute to an explosive flower production. The flowers are thick and compact, but retain their distinctive smell and taste.

Application

Add to the nutrient solution from the flowering period onwards. Can be used daily for the irrigation of the crop during the flowering period.

Growing tip

The combination of B'cuzz Booster with this Bloom stimulator is strongly recommended and will surpass all expectations.
